Village Nominations Dec. 13th.

The Village nominations will be held on Monday, Dec. 13th., and all you who desire civic honors can start in shaking hands and buying cigars.

If you are not satisfied with the present administration this is your chance to make your grievances known.

A.M. Trail, who for a number of years had been manager of the Bank of Hamilton at Vulcan, has been promoted to the management of the Brandon branch. Mr. Trail was widely known among the early settlers all through this country.

No Gambling Allowed

There was a good deal of excitement and speculation in town this week over the charges laid by the A.P.P. against Orbie Baker for permitting gambling in the pool room and against Tom Rodgers for gambling in a public place. The case was called for Friday and a J.P. from Retlaw was to preside, but as he did not appear an adjournment was made until Saturday. Jos. Rodgers and E. C. Lacqueument were secured to preside, jointly. The case was heard in the I.O.O.F. Hall and until the floor props were reported to be suffering from the severe strain the entire town and countryside were accepting the event assort of a public entertainment. From then on only the witnesses were allowed to remain in the hall. Constable Maddison prosecuted while W. A. Macdonald of Calgary appeared for the defense. The J.P.s concluded that the evidence did not warrant a conviction, so after delivering a little lecture of warning, threw out both cases. These charges arose over some of the disclosures at the time of the investigation into the Rodgers-China-man stabbing affair.

NOTES

The Australian government has guaranteed the Australian farmer an amount equivalent to $2.07 a bushel for the present wheat crop, and Australia has an exceptionally good crop to harvest. Apparently Australia does not take seriously the manipulation of the American and Canadian Wheat markets.

About eighty million bushels of Canadian wheat have been sold this fall at an average price of $2.43. Of this, less than five million bushels remains in the terminal elevators. Farmers hold about fifteen million bushels in store at the lake front. Canada will only export about one hundred and twenty million bushels this year. Dollar wheat doesn't look reasonable under these conditions.

It is generally conceded that capitalistic interests forced the slump upon the country. But they did not anticipate such a momentum to be gained before calling a halt. They held to the old idea that they could force the little man to liquidate on a falling market. But this year the farmer balked. He refused to honor obligations in the face of such unwarranted treatment. As a consequence the financiers found themselves embarrassed. Then they approach the government soliciting relief for the poor farmer. The poor farmer could do very nicely, thank you, if not compelled to work against the handicap of international exchange manipulated on Wall Street.

Elliott, Argue & Co. Quitting Lomond

T. R. Argue was up from Cartwright Manitoba, this week on a business conference with Mr. Elliott of Elliott, Argue & Co. The Press regrets to state that the result of this conference is the decision of the company to withdraw their business from Lomond on the 15th of February coming. This decision was the result of the fact that Jim Marshall, owner of the building, required them to purchase in lieu of the privilege of further tenancy.

Midway U.F.A. Tackles Heavy Problems

R. L. McManus, originator of plan.

Resolved: That the farmers set the price on wheat according to this plan, viz:—1. That the farmers organize, each township as a unit, one man as an official to strike the average cost of production through the personal interview with each farmer. 2. With a central in each province to average the cost of production for the province. 3. A central for the dominion to average the cost of production for the dominion. 4. The dominion central to add the profit and market the wheat. 5. The farmers who have a crop failure, through no fault of their own, to be paid for labor and all expenses. This to be added to the general cost of production.

R. L. McManus was captain for the affirmative, being supported by G. H. Ficht and Mrs. Wm. Bailey.

A. K. Anderberg piloted the negatives, being supported by E. R. Barnett and Mrs. H. Sivertson.

The judges were W. V. Baker, Mr. O'Connor, teacher at Midway, and Miss Smith, teacher at First Chance.

The decision given was in favor of the negatives, they scoring 22 points against the affirmatives' 20. There was a very large attendance and everyone was intensely interested in the program. At the close the ladies served lunch and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be held on Saturday, Dec. 4th. There is to be a debate between the farm women and farm men. Subject—resolved: "That no young man should be allowed to marry until he is possessed of at least $2000 of wealth clear of all debts."

Mrs. W. S. Bailey will captain the affirmative and Mr. O'Connor the negative.
